A TRIBUTE TO

George William Veditz

August 13, 1861 - March 12, 1937

In 1878 at the age of 17, George William Veditz completed his education at the Maryland School for the Deaf (MSD), and in 1884, he became this school's first vocational instructor. The Vocational Building on the MSD campus was named after him on account of an honor to his profession.

In 1892, Veditz founded the Maryland School for the Deaf Alumni Association. He was regarded as a genuine plant seeder for the Maryland Association of the Deaf. Eventually, this association became a reality in 1956.

Veditz has had served as president of the National Association of the Deaf (1904-1910), and he was responsible for spearheading the NAD "Preservation of Sign Language" project in 1911. The Howard County Library in Columbia, Maryland owns American Sign Language (ASL), Access Video Collection in which donations were made possible through the George W. Veditz Memorial Fund.

George William Veditz

Illustrated by Ruth E. Peterson
FOLDA www.folda.net
PURPOSE OF THE MDAD CHAPTER
Providing the Maryland deaf community in Baltimore City and 23 counties with quick facts about the MDAD, deaf resources and library services insuring their rights to know
With such knowledge, deaf-related organizations and public libraries will be able to collaborate in presenting deaf cultural programs in Maryland, regardless of the geographic location.

DEAF COMMUNITY CONTACTS
STATEWIDE SERVICES
A. Maryland Governor’s Office of Deaf and Hard of Hearing (ODHH) October 2001
  Baltimore 21201
  Web Site: http://www.odhh.md.gov
    ▪  ODHH Directory
      www.odhh.maryland.gov/resources.asp ▪  Advisory Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing
      http://www.odhh.md.gov/council.asp ▪  Governor’s Office
      http://www.governor.maryland.gov/
B. Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE)
  Baltimore 21201
  Web Site: http://marylandpublicschools.org/msde
  Online source for information on Maryland’s prek-12 public education, public libraries, and rehabilitation services  for example, Directory of services

I. Division of Library Development and Services (DLSD) 1946
  Web Site: www.marylandpublicschools.org/msde/divisions/library
  Library services, MD links and online databases:
  www.sailor.lib.md.us
      State Library Commission was formed in 1902, Public Libraries Branch 1971
      Centered at Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore, more than 400 public, university, college and community college libraries participate in the State Library Network. The Network is aided by the following regional resource centers: The State Library Resource Center (Baltimore City) 1; Eastern Shore Regional Library, Inc. (Salisbury); Southern Maryland Regional Library Association (Charlotte Hall) and Western Maryland Public Libraries (Hagerstown)
        ▪  Public Libraries of Maryland May 2008 Directory
          Web Site: http://directory.sailor.lib.md.us/
        ▪  Info Experts 24/7 “ASK LIBRARIAN”
          Web Site: http://www.askusnow.info/
b. Maryland State Library for the Blind & Physically Handicapped (LBPH) 1968
   Web Site: http://www.lbph.lib.md.us/
   This Maryland regional library has one sub-regional library, Disability Resource Center, formerly the Special Needs Library (SNL) opened January 6, 1986, for handicapped residents of Montgomery County; in November 2006, SNL merged with the new Rockville Library and became the Disability Resource Center.
   Under the direction of the National Library Services for the Blind and Physically Handicapped of the Library of Congress (NLS) and the Division of Library Development and Services of the Maryland State Dept of Education, these two libraries serve the library and information needs of Maryland’s blind and physically handicapped citizens throughout the state.

II. Division of Rehabilitation Services (DORS) 1929
   Web Site: www.dors.state.md.us
   DORS has a statewide network of Rehabilitation Counselors for the Deaf (RCD) having the skill to serve people with all types of hearing loss and know ASL. DORS also operates the Workforce & offers programs and services that help Maryland citizens who have disabilities get ready for work and independence

C. Maryland Dept of Information Technology (DOIT)
   Telecommunications Access of MD (TAM) 1990
   Maryland Relay 1991
   Baltimore 21201
   Web Site: http://www.mdrelay.org
   TAM has a new contract in place for the procurement of Assistive Telecommunications Equipment and Associated Peripherals. MD county governments and municipalities may apply. Provides relay service 24/7/365 and assistive telephone equipment to qualified MD residents with a disability.

D. Maryland Association of the Deaf (MDAD) 1956
   Library Friends Committee (LFC) November 1989
   Burtonsville 20866
   Web Site: http://www.mdad.tv

   To access deaf-related organizations and libraries in MD, please go to “The Deaf Community Contacts @ your library”
   http://www.folda.net/contacts/DCCstate_MD.html
JOIN THE CIRCLE OF KNOWLEDGE

Maryland Association of the Deaf (MDAD) www.mdad.tv.

MDAD was founded in 1956 at the Silent Orioles Club in Baltimore, Maryland by concerned Maryland citizens, including some members of the Maryland School for the Deaf Alumni Association (MSDAA). It became incorporated as a 501(c) (3) nonprofit in 1967.

Henry Nicol, who was the first president of MDAD, carried on his responsibility as an outgoing president of MSDAA at the time the MDAD was formed in 1956.

In November 1989, a Library Friends Committee was formed with a charge to "Put MDAD on the library map." In May 1990, under the leadership of Harvey Goodstein, the 11th MDAD president, a booklet, A Quick Guide to Maryland Resources for the Deaf Community, was published for free distribution to Maryland's public libraries.

On June 14, 2008, the MDAD board under the leadership of President Alicia Epstein voted for MDAD be an affiliate of the National Literary Society of the Deaf http://www.folda.net/nlsd/about.htm#partners

Between 1989 and 2007, Amy Bopp, Alice L. Hagemeyer, Jackie Stover and other MDAD members have represented the MDAD and the Maryland Deaf community at various library activities in Maryland

Library Friends Committee: 2008 -2010
Rev. Mark Ehrlichmann, chair and two members, Alice L. Hagemeyer (directory) and Pauline Spanbauer (MDAD Trivia)
MDAD GAMING
1. How many past MDAD presidents graduated from the Maryland School for the Deaf?
Three  Henry Nicol, Rudolph Hines and David Neill
2. Match Past MDAD Presidents with Subjects

Past MDAD Presidents
1. Harvey Goodstein
2. Astrid A. Goodstein
3. Rudolph Hines
4. John Kubis
5. David Neill
6. Lee Smith
7. Stephen Weiner
8. Charles Giansanti
9. Gertrude S. Galloway

Subjects
__a. Gallaudet provost
__b. At leisure in the Maryland Eastern Shore
__c. At leisure in Arizona
__d. At leisure in Florida
__e. NAD board member representing Region 4
__f. Member of the Gallaudet board of trustees
__g. 2008 Frederick C. Schreiber Leadership Award winner
__h. At leisure in Minnesota
__i. At leisure in Texas

1-f - 2-e - 3-h - 4-d - 5-b - 6-g - 7-a - 8-c - 9-i

PROMOTE DEAF CULTURE, BOOKS AND LITERACY

MARYLAND AUTHORS AND EDITORS OF THE 21ST CENTURY
The 21st century began on January 1, 2001 and will end December 31, 2100.

Catherine (Kitty), a retired librarian at the Model Secondary School for the Deaf; offers insights into the Cajun culture in which she was raised and about her experience being blind. She has given her talk at several public libraries.

Presented on February 17, 2007, hosted by National Literary Society of the Deaf, held at the Silver Spring Library (MD) She has also made presentations at several public libraries.

Author grew up with deaf parents and one hearing sister on a farm in Clarksville, Iowa.
Author, one of the many successful school graduates, mentioned the impact of the school and its students in Iowa and the nation since 1855. Author has given a talk on his book at the Silver Spring Library (MD) hosted by the National Literary Society of the Deaf See: www.iadeaf.k12.ia.us

http://gupress.gallaudet.edu Several public libraries have shown a preview of the PBS film, Through Deaf Eyes, inviting the group to discuss it afterward.

CELEBRATE DEAF HISTORY MONTH
A Quick Glance at Maryland Deaf history

On August 13, 1861 George William Veditz was born in Baltimore, Maryland.

In 1868 the Maryland School for the Deaf (MSD) opened in two old stone structures called the Hessian Barracks in the city of Frederick.

1872-1875 Robert McGregor taught at the MSD and he married Hester M. Porter, a MSD graduate and teacher at the same school. Five years later while teaching in Cincinnati, Ohio, McGregor and two others formed the NAD, and he became its first president.

In 1875 George William Veditz entered the MSD at the age of 14 and graduated in 1878.

In 1884 George William Veditz became the first vocational instructor at the MSD. He was also the editor of The Maryland Bulletin.

On June 17, 1892 the Maryland School for the Deaf Alumni Association (MSDAA) was formally organized. George William Veditz was the founder and its first president. Veditz was a teacher at the Colorado School for the Deaf at that time.
On March 12, 1937 George William Veditz died in Colorado Springs, CO

In 1973 the second MSD opened in Columbia, Maryland.

On December 6, 1977 Mervin D. Garretson made a presentation on George William Veditz at the Gaithersburg Public Library.

This chapter will be upgraded from time to time on the FOLDA web site. Please visit us often. If any, please email comments to folda86@aol.com